Stirred by Great Demonstration for Initial Contingent, Moulton Boys Come Here and Enlist

Curt Scoggins, One of Gideon Band, Receives News That
Father Is Dying, as He Boards Train

Because they saw the grand ovation given to the first 11 drafted boys to leave Lawrence county and sorry because they had been left out of the draft, Robt. White, Floyd Free and Bernard I. White, all well known boys of Moulton, came directly over to Decatur and enlisted, and have already been sent to Birmingham.

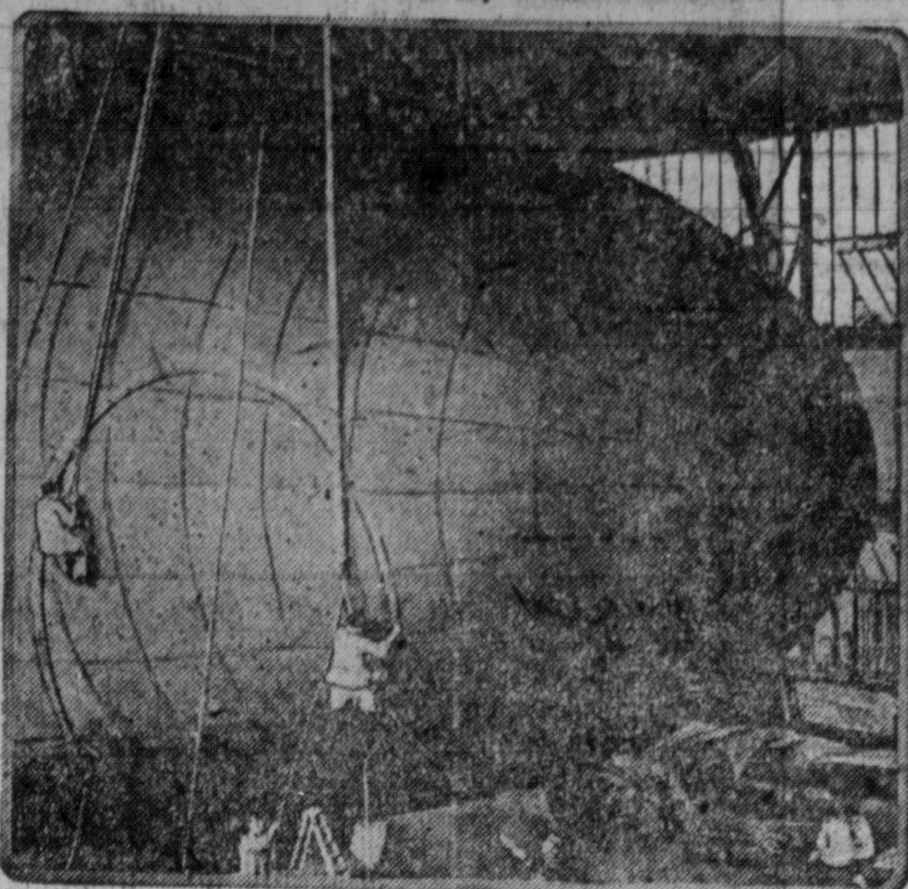

These boys were along with the 35 cars of Lawrence county people that accompanied the "Gideon Band" from Moulton to Hillsboro and bade them farewell before their departure to Camp Pike, Ark. According to W. A. Moles, more than 200 people made the 12-miles journey, including fathers, mothers and relatives of the soldier boys.

One of the brave eleven, Curt Scoggins, of Town Creek, one minute previous to his enlisting received a telegram from homefolks saying that his father was dying, but the unfortunate boy had already signed up to go, and did so leaving his dear father to the tender care of loved ones at home.

Before the draft boys left the county seat at Moulton they were greeted by over 2,000 people, according to a conservative estimate, the largest crowd that Moulton ever saw. Among the prominent speakers were Capt. Forney, W. W. Callahan, W. T. Lowe, D. C. Almon, C. C. Sherrod and Judge J. C. Kump.

(International News Service.)
Chicago, Sept. 7.—Wholesale prosecutions on the charge of conspiracy against the government, many arrests and raids yet to be made, the probable return of blanket indictments which would involve thousands throughout the United States, and the probable deportation of I. W. W.'s, are developments soon to be expected in the government's campaign against the I. W. W. These facts were outlined to the International News Service today by a federal official, Frank C. Daly, known throughout the middle west as "the terror of evil doers." Daly has joined in the great man hunt.

Albany Council Will Meet at Seven O'clock

President Jack Dillehay has called a meeting of the Albany city council for tonight at 7 o'clock so as to transact all business by 8, thus giving the members a chance to attend the lecture of Major Leppert at the Y. M. C. A.

2 LOCAL CHAPTERS RED CROSS WILL DIVIDE TERRITORY, SAYS MAJ. LEPPERT

ALBANY GETS PRICEVILLE, FLINT AND AUSTINVILLE, AND DECATUR GETS REMAINDER OF THE COUNTY.

GULF DIRECTOR IS ORATOR

HEARD LAST NIGHT AT DECATUR CITY HALL BY LARGE CROWD. SPEAKS ON "Y. M. C. A. LAWS THIS EVENING AT 8 O'CLOCK."

With an eloquence of conviction and a force of earnestness surpassing any war-time oratory heard in this community so far, Major William J. Leppert, of New Orleans, charmed and inspired his audience at the Decatur city hall last night. Without bitterness, the fiercest drive imaginable was made by the speaker on those as he said "who were twisting our hard-earned liberty into license and by slanders upon our laws and common decency and common sense were seeking to deceive the American people as to the true aims of the war."

It developed that the speaker had in mind Tom Watson, James K. Vardaman, "Big Bill" Thompson, of Chicago, and some local and lesser lights. When the speaker thundered forth that such traitors should be placed behind bars there was a roar of applause. And until he left the subject of our Judases and Benedict Arnolds, there were enacted just such scenes as those of two nights before, when in the same hall and in the presence of Morgan county's first sixteen soldiers for the national army those who put honor above death had cheered to the echo the noble words of the several speakers.

Major Leppert came to Decatur in pursuance of his work as Gulf States director of the American Red Cross. He was introduced by Rev. W. N. Sholl, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. William E. Crawford presided over the meeting, at the close of which a called meeting of the Decatur organization was announced for 9:30 o'clock this morning at the Lyons hotel.

At the request of the chairman, Rev. William E. Morris offered the opening invocation of last night's meeting, praying for "the triumph of the principles which we deem to be just."

Rev. Sholl Makes Address.
In introducing the speaker, Rev. W. N. Sholl made a spirited address. He brushed aside as transient and as doomed to disgrace and failure, the unpatriotic efforts of certain men, declaring that we had never had a millennium of patriotism in our previous war. Then turning to the leaders of the Red Cross, he told them that "the vitality of your minds, the skill of your hands, and the tenderness of your hearts insures the success of your part in the present great conflict."

Major Leppert Speaks.
The speaker of the evening called attention to the representative character of his audience, paying especial attention to the colored contingent present of Red Cross workers. These he charged to do "all the whites failed to do," and told them how heartily welcome they should feel in the work of the common task.

Said the speaker: "As to the mooted question of the jurisdiction of the Decatur and Albany Red Cross societies, I wish to say openly and publicly that it has been settled by your own people after a fashion that reflects great credit upon your loyalty and patriotism."

It was announced that the Decatur chapter should have as its field all of Morgan county with the exception of Priceville, Fairview, Austinville, and Flint, these towns being under the jurisdiction of the Albany chapter.

From 200,000 strong in the early days of 1917, the Red Cross has grown until now it numbers 3,000,000—20,000 members by Thanksgiving day, 1918, being the goal now sought.

"If," said the speaker, "you smoke (Continued on page two.)"

ALLIES LOSE ON ALL FRONTS

British Reversed in Flanders and Italians Routed
From San Gabriele

(International News Service.)
Washington, Sept. 7.—Jugoslav officers and men fighting with the Austrian armies are surrendering in large numbers to the Italians on the Isonzo front "rather than fight the battle of reaction against the forces of freedom," according to dispatches from Corfu received at the Serbian legation today.

(International News Service.)
Petrograd, Sept. 7.—The Russian Baltic fleet will make a desperate defense of Petrograd and the bases at Kronstadt and Revel. Official assurance to this effect was given today in dispatches to the provisional government from the commanders of these ports. The most significant feature of this development is that it shows that the new peril facing Russia since the fall of Riga is uniting the hostile political factions.

The foregoing cablegram to the International News Service today is the first official word as to the intentions of the Baltic fleet. The report that German men-of-war were at the entrance to the Gulf indicates that a sea battle is imminent.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Sept. 7.—The new Russian government has taken drastic steps to prevent smuggling of money and valuable securities to the Germans, according to consular reports received here today.

(International News Service.)
Petrograd, Sept. 7.—At a secret meeting of the provisional government today it was decided to put Petrograd under the jurisdiction of a special commission with plenary powers. The suggestion that martial law be established was rejected.

General Korniloff will have charge of the defense of the capital.

(International News Service.)
Stockholm, Sept. 7.—An unconfirmed report was received today from Petrograd that Gen. Korniloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian army, may be made military dictator of Russia until the present crisis is past.

(International News Service.)
Copenhagen, Sept. 7.—German forces that captured the great Russian port of Riga on the Baltic Sea are working with desperate energy transforming it into a naval base for extensive sea operations.

Advices received here today report that a German flotilla has entered the Gulf of Finland on the northern end of the Baltic on which Petrograd is situated. Another flotilla is cruising off Revel, an important Russian port about half way between Riga and the Russian capital.

Large numbers of German trawlers, conveyed by torpedo boats, are destroying mine fields off the Russian coast.
An unconfirmed report was current here that German transports, conveyed by warships, had passed up the Russian coast beyond Riga. If true, this indicates that the Germans may attempt to land an army in the rear of the Russian forces retreating in the Riga-Dvinsk sector.

The Russian retreat from Riga continues with the German Eighth army in pursuit. The Germans have broken the Russian front over a width of more than 40 miles and are now approaching Wensien. A dispatch from Petrograd stated that Premier Kerensky has sent a proclamation to the Kronstadt garrison, chief defense of Petrograd on the eastern side, exhorting the soldiers and sailors stationed there to remain loyal to the government.

German correspondents on the eastern front telegraphed that the lower classes were looting Riga when the Germans entered the city.

Draper Calls for Volunteers to Leave Sept. 19 for Training Camp

Jas. L. Draper, secretary of the Morgan county exemption board, today issued a call for volunteers to comprise the second contingent of 40 per cent of the county's quota of 328 selected men which will entrain for Camp Pike, Ark., on Sept. 19. Already several men have come forward of their own accord and asked to be allowed to go next.

It is the purpose of the exemption board to allow farmers who have made crops to go with the last contingent, so that they may have time to harvest their crops. For this reason the call for volunteers is made, as it will greatly simplify the sending out of notices for the next contingent to report.

GERMAN AIRMEN DROP BOMBS ON AMERICAN HOSPITAL

(International News Service.)
Paris, Sept. 7.—German airmen bombarded an American hospital in a French coast town today, killing one United States officer and wounding five members of his staff, said a dispatch from the British front today. About 10 other persons in the hospital were wounded by the projectiles. This is the latest blow struck by Germany in the new campaign of frightfulness against hospitals behind the lines. It is the first direct attack against the Americans.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Sept. 7.—Unofficial reports reached the war department this afternoon that an American hospital in France had been bombarded by German aeroplanes, one American officer being killed and several others wounded.

A PROPER CONCEPTION OF OBLIGATION TO AMERICA.

Chief Justice Andrew B. Bruce of North Dakota, speaking last night at the banquet to the American Bar Association, made a forceful argument for the support of America and American institutions by the foreign-born citizens of this great republic. He is quoted as saying:

I speak from the viewpoint of the foreign-born. I and millions of others like me came to this country from without money and without friends. We sponged on all that America had, her free lands, her free schools and above all, her spirit of open-hearted comradeship. She owed us nothing but she gave us all. We swore allegiance to her flag, her constitution and her laws. We would be recreants, ingrates, perjurers and curs if in the hour of her need we counselled with her enemies and were disloyal to her cause.

Judge Bruce is the proper type of assimilated citizen. His recognition of the debt of gratitude and devotion that he owes to the land on which he "sponged," and which in return gave him honors, position and wealth, stamps him as worthy of the best that the nation can offer. It is hard for the average American to have patience with that limited class of foreign-born who after growing fat at the expense of the country of their adoption, turn traitors to its cause when the hour of peril and crisis arrives. It is too much to expect any man to despise the land of his birth. At the same time, the least that can be expected of him is that he pay allegiance to that nation that grants him citizenship, liberty and opportunity.

A CONSPICUOUS INSTANCE OF UNPatriotic CLAMOR.

Although Secretary of Labor Wilson went to the trouble and inconvenience of making a personal trip to Birmingham to arbitrate the differences between the coal miners and the coal operators and succeeded in patching up a compromise that was announced as acceptable to both parties to the controversy, the Birmingham press is again filled with the vaporous mouthings of the discontents. The coal operators, unable to reconcile themselves to the new conditions brought about by their rapacity, have sent a committee to Washington to appear before the fuel administrator and beg for the privilege of being allowed to charge the public more. The coal miners, dissatisfied with wages that are ample and liberal, have called a convention and are threatening to strike. The Alabama public, disgusted and nauseated at this continued demonstration of disloyalty will welcome the day when the mines are operated by the federal government. Greed and growl are an unholy combination.

PHYSICAL FITNESS.

The gladness smile that lights the faces of some of the Morgan county men who fail to pass the physical examinations for entrance to the army, is in itself perhaps the correct explanation of why America is fast becoming a nation of weaklings and fools. This open hilarity at an official attestation of imperfection shows such a scant regard for physical fitness as to conclusively prove that the subject is without proper comprehension of the value of a sound body. Naturally, the man who has undervalued a good physique has made no effort to attain one, and nothing comes without effort.

The Americans of the future are destined to be a sorry lot if this indifference to excellence continues. More's the pity, for they will not be to blame. They will have inherited the weaknesses of their forebears. They will have been shackled by circumstances over which they had no control. They will face life with a handicap imposed by unambitious ancestors. From the coon hunting pioneers of a century ago to the cigarette effeminates of today is a long jump. Add another century to the down hill slide and the nation will be peopled with a race of men incapable of defending its shores even against an invasion of Chinese pacifists.

IS DIVERSIFICATION THE CURE?

The large number of North Alabama men who are unable to stand the test of even the lax physical requirements of the new national army, ranging from 30 per cent in some counties to 70 per cent in others, suggests the query: Is diversification of crops the cure?

Is it not altogether possible that the anemic, the sallow-faced, peaked, pizened looking men who come in from the rural districts are victims of the unbalanced ration? They have been fed too much hog and bread and too little else. The foods that they have consumed have lacked nutrition.

Did you note the swarthy, sinewy appearance of the Ohio troops that passed through the Twin Cities recently? Did you ever stop to think how big and bony and strong are the country boys reared in Middle Tennessee, where cotton is grown scarcely at all and where diversification rules. There must be a reason for this.

If Alabama would grow diversified crops, plenty of the good things to eat, it is not hard to believe that the men who live out there the atmosphere is pure and who get plenty of wholesome exercise would take on the "tall men, sun-kissed men," type of which the poets sing.

Geo. W. Meadow Dies at Nashville

I. J. Rogers, of South Albany, has just received a telegram that Geo. W. Meadow, 60 years old, and a resident of this city until a year ago, died this morning at the home of his brother in Nashville. Mr. Meadow was well known in this city. He was a member of the Central Methodist church. In his younger days he was one of the best ball players of his time and played on various league teams.

Revival Services at First Methodist

Will Begin Sunday, Which Will Also Be "Decision Day."

Sunday will be observed as "Decision Day" in the Sunday school of the First Methodist church, Decatur. The pastor will speak briefly to the school at the close of the lesson period and an opportunity will be given to any present to unite with the church. Also there will be the regular preaching service at 11 o'clock.

The evening service will be held at 7:30, which is a half-hour earlier than for the past several months. The services will be continued throughout the week, the pastor preaching every night at 7:30. Mr. Fischer will lead the singing. It is hoped that the daytime may be given by the members in personal work, culminating each day in the evening service.

The people generally have an urgent invitation to attend all of these services. It is hoped that the church may be filled at the evening hours. In this time of stress and uncertainty we ought to be made more conscious than ever of our need of God, and there should be an earnest seeking after Him.

HENRY M. STEVENSON, Pastor.

Scientist's War Service.

Dr. Alexis Carrel, one of the greatest of living surgeons, head of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research and winner of the Nobel prize for science in 1912, is forty-four years old. Doctor Carrel, who is a native of France, is now wearing the "horizon blue" field uniform of a French lieutenant, having been sent by the Rockefeller Institute to the front at the outbreak of the war to conduct an extensive inquiry into modern war surgery. For his invaluable services to the French wounded, the French government has bestowed upon him the cross of the Legion of Honor. Doctor Carrel looks upon America as his real home, and after the war will return to New York to resume direction of the Rockefeller Institute.

SAVE ALABAMA'S CORN CROP

By W. E. Hinde, Entomologist.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.

The great need of the world today is for food. Alabama's principal contribution in the line of food materials is corn, and the prospect now is that we shall gather this year the largest corn crop ever produced in this state. There is good reason to expect that the crop will exceed 80,000,000 bushels. But even then we shall not have surplus corn for export, as we require over 100,000,000 to supply our own needs. We cannot expect to import corn this year from the Middle West, as their surplus corn will be going abroad. It is imperative therefore that we in Alabama save every bit of the crop that we are raising.

Experiment Station Studying Problem. For eight years past the writer has been studying, for the farmers of Alabama, the problem of saving the corn that we raise in this state from the great loss that occurs through the insects that attack corn in the cribs. The results of this study are now available and may be the means of accomplishing an immense saving in corn at this critical time.

Importance of Insect Control. It is necessary, first of all, that we should realize as clearly as possible the immense importance of this problem. Let us make it as definite as we can. The figures we shall use are all conservative and are based upon careful studies made of actual losses occurring under usual methods of handling the corn crop in the past eight years. Take the estimate of 80,000,000 bushels as our probable yield and allow that one-half of that amount will be used up before March 1, 1918, and that the balance will be used at the rate of 8,000,000 bushels per month. Under usual methods of handling it is extremely conservative to assume that one-fourth of the total crop, or 20,000,000 bushels, will suffer a damage of five per cent, between the time of its maturity in the field and the following March. After March 1st it is also conservative to figure a loss from all insects in the crib amounting to five per cent per month for the balance of the crop still carried in storage under ordinary conditions. On this basis we must look for an insect tax of fully 7,000,000 bushels that Alabama corn raisers and corn users must pay if this year's big crop is handled as crops of recent years have been. Think what 7,000,000 bushels of corn means. First, a cash value of around $10,000,000; second, an amount of corn in the shuck that it would require 14,000 freight cars to move. If these cars were made up into 400 trains of 35 cars each, they would make a solid line extending 114 miles in length. What would these trains contain? Not a grain of edible corn. This is only waste—the refuse or remnants—shucks and cobs left from corn destroyed by insects in Alabama.

Do you still think that weevil in the corn are only a trifling item or are you now prepared to do your part and save half or more of this easily preventable loss?

Utilize Early Corn as Trap Plot. By changing somewhat their methods of harvesting and storing corn, Alabama farmers can save more than $5,000,000 worth of corn without using any insecticide or adding materially to the expense of handling the crop.

How? First, by realizing that most of the weevils on any farm may be found in the very first matured plot of corn for about six weeks after that corn is in the roasting ear stage. They are breeding there rapidly and after this six weeks period the first generation will emerge and spread from that plot to later maturing corn. Therefore, that earliest corn should be considered as being a trap plot and the ears from it all gathered with the husk on to keep the weevils from being scattered. Harvest this just as soon as it is mature enough to feed, which is within the six-weeks period mentioned above, and either fumigate it in the crib or feed it out promptly to prevent the general infestation of the main crop. The amount of corn in this field makes little difference, but all of that earliest maturity should be gathered at this time. It is an easy matter to find where the weevils are most numerous by opening up the ears having exposed tips as the shuck dries and shrinks away from the hardening grain. Most of them are likely to occur in fields near corn cribs or barns and on the outside rows.

Prompt Action Important. This prompt gathering of the earliest maturing corn is the first and most important step in preventing the general infestation of later maturing fields. Other steps are necessary to reduce insect damage to a minimum and these will be published in due season. Tell your neighbors about this matter and get every corn raiser in your community to act with you in this important step toward saving millions of dollars worth of corn. Do not delay action and raise this opportunity.

2 LOCAL CHAPTERS RED CROSS WILL

Your 10-cent perfect, knowing its price will save the life of a poor Belgian child, that child's cries will haunt you. Every hand stitched garment you ladies make will save that much coal for use in making steel for the protection of your boys at the front.

Poland, Belgium and France.

From word of mouth descriptions heard by the speaker from high class men who had visited these desolated nations, Major Leppert told a sad story of Belgium, Poland and northern France. He said 600,000 Frenchmen had tuberculosis as a result of trench fighting. He made real the driving into slavery of 5,000 Belgians, and how, when they refused to the end to be slaves, their broken bodies were put into cattle cars and re-shipped from Germany to their heart-broken relatives. Four hundred and fifty thousand of the civilian population of Poland were killed outright, and the little empty baby hammocks all along the retreat showed how the Germans had murdered infants.

"If decriers say all the millions asked for the Red Cross work will not be used or needed, remember that Herbert C. Hoover estimates that it will take $7,500,000,000 to rehabilitate the stricken countries after the war is over, and this work will be participated in by the Red Cross. So you must learn the lesson of extending the helping hand, and don't button your purse too tight. Give until it hurts—until it hurts worse and still worse, and on and on until it finally quits hurting."

"The Star-Spangled Banner"

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there,
Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:
'Tis the star-spangled banner; oh, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has washed out their foul footsteps' pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave:
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

Oh, thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved home and wild war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the Pow'r that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust!"
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

Wit of Joseph Choate.
Joseph Choate had a decidedly nasal voice, but it was a beautiful voice, resonant as some big gong; and his rather untidy wit was as genuine as his courage. Every now and then his wit was touched with beauty, as when he said of the freshmen dormitories at Harvard that all they needed to make them rivals of the Oxford college buildings was ivy and time. Mr. Choate took a playful satisfaction in suddenly chilling auditors whom he had carefully warmed. Speaking once at a boys' school, three of whose graduates had acted as his secretaries when he was ambassador, he delighted his audience by his praise of these secretaries. After enjoying the pleasure of masters and boys Mr. Choate wound up by saying something like this: "Perhaps I ought to add that all I ask of a secretary is that he shall keep out of my way and shave every day."—New Republic.

Surmounting the Impossible.
It has been the experience of every forester as he goes about the country to be told that a certain mountain is impassable, that a certain trail cannot be traveled, that a certain stream cannot be crossed and to find that mountain, trail and stream can all be passed with little serious difficulty by a man who is willing to try. Most things said to be impossible are so only in the mind of the man whose timidity or ineffectiveness keeps him from making the attempt. The whole story of the establishment and growth of the United States forest service is a story of the doing of things which the men who did them were warned in advance would be impossible. Usually the thing which "cannot be done" is well worth trying.—Gifford Pinchot.

FALL SESSION OF PRESBYTERY HELD

DELEGATES FROM NORTH ALABAMA CHURCHES ENTERTAINED IN HOSPITABLE GURLEY HOMES.

Several local church workers attended the fall sessions of the Presbytery of the Huntsville district held at Gurley the first of the week and report a very enthusiastic and instructive meeting. The assembly was called to order by Rev. Berry Copeland, retiring moderator. Then, under the guidance of the princely moderator, the Rev. G. L. Hamilton, of Athens, the meeting proceeded.
Rev. L. F. Goodwin, of the West Side church, was appointed by the Presbytery to declare the pulpit of the Westminster church vacant. Rev. Goodwin was also heard Wednesday in a magnificent sermon on personal service. City Clerk Henry Hartung represented the Westminster church.
H. L. Turner, Sunday school missionary, on Wednesday afternoon gave his report of the last eight months' work, which showed that he had been very successful.

Rev. J. L. Tyler, veteran pastor of Elkmont, delivered a stirring address Wednesday afternoon on "The Right of Being Well Born." An effort will be made to have Dr. Taylor come to Albany next month to make an address at the Westminster church.
Dr. W. L. Darby and P. E. Green, of Birmingham, were on the program and gave interesting reports, as did the Rev. F. L. Wear, of Huntsville. Local pastors, Rev. W. B. Strong and L. F. Goodwin, as chairmen of important committees, submitted fine reports.
About thirty churches were represented and the citizens of Gurley opened their homes to the delegates. The spring meeting of the Presbytery will be held in April at Scottsboro.

The table was decorated with a large American flag and smaller flags draped the chair occupied by the honored soldier boy.

RIGA GERMAN NAVAL BASE

AUSTRIANS RE-CAPTURE MONTE SAN GABRIELE. (International News Service.)

Rome, Sept. 7.—The eleventh battle of the Isonzo which is raging from Tolmino to the Adriatic Sea, will enter its third week tomorrow. The heaviest fighting still centers around Monte San Gabriele and Monte Daniels, northeast of Gorizia, and on the Carso plateau southeast of Gorizia. Using fresh troops the Austro-Hungarians have launched powerful counter attacks at numerous points along the front. On Monte San Gabriele the Austro-Hungarians re-captured trench sectors that the Italians had taken in a brilliant dash four days ago.

GAINS FOR GERMANS. (International News Service.)

London, Sept. 7.—A slight gain for the Germans on the West Flanders front was admitted by the British war office today. During the night the Germans made a counter attack north of Presenberg, re-capturing local ground lost to the British in the fighting on Thursday.

COUNTRY LAID WASTE. (International News Service.)

Petrograd, Sept. 7.—As they fall back from the Riga sector, the Russians are laying waste the country behind them to impede the advance of the Germans. Roads are being destroyed, bridges blown up and stores of supplies burned. A special commission was appointed by Premier Kerensky to investigate the Russian evacuation of Riga. It has been found that only two regiments abandoned their positions without gallantly resisting the German attack. The retirement is being carried out in an orderly manner despite the fact that three German armies are in pursuit.
